Sheddies' Chatter

Insulation installed

Another month gone by and we are progressing well with the internal fit out. All the exterior walls have now been insulated by our contractors Ecoinsulation and they will return in a couple of weeks to insulate the roof area. The kitchen cabinets (donated) have arrived and the toilet furniture is available for the plumber to fit. We understand he will be on site to complete his install next week. As soon as the plumber can pressurise his lines we will apply for our pre lining inspection and then you will see a big change in the appearance of the interior with all the Gib board and Triboard fitted.

The workshop lighting (15 X Hi beam with prismatic (reflectors) is the last item to be wired and Larry has this all under control.

The work put in by members each week is amazing and there is something for everyone regardless of their expertise, to be able to be involved. If you would like to come along and have a look, please do, we are sure that you will be impressed.

Space in the Shed

We have received many donations of equipment for which we are very grateful. The problem we are having is that with all the building materials stored we are temporarily running out of space especially when the mobile scaffold needs to be moved around the building. So to help, we are asking those that have items to be donated to hold onto them for about three weeks and then contact us before you drop the item in so that we can be sure that there is a storage place for them.

Tom and Dick are building a house when Tom sees Dick going through a bag of nails. He looks at each nail in turn and some he puts into a box and others he throws into a bin. 'Why are you throwing those nails away?' asks Tom. 'Because they're pointed at the wrong end,' says Dick. 'You idiot,' replies Tom. 'Those nails are for the other side of the house.'
